Hi [redacted] what is this? I find it in the apartment. Do you know what is this ? The gemeente came to visit you?
12:46 in the afternoon
oh, yes, I think it is from Gemeente, just forgot to tell you that last week before I left NL I put the apartment on airbnb because I've paid the apartment until the end of Auguest but [redacted] has left the apartment last month and I need to make some money to prepare my trip back to [redacted] you know my situation, my pocket is totally empty now and I can't go back home without any money with me.
12:46 in the afternoon
What? You rent out my apartment for airbnb ! You never asked me for it! And gemeente has come for it!?
12:47 in the afternoon
I don't know exactly what happened because I've already left for [redacted] at that time, the guests told me about that, they said there were some people from the government, who came to the apartment and investigated them and they told them they are airbnb guests and that's it. but don't worry I did the airbnb following the regulation, I only host 4 guests and less than 10 days totally, it is allowed and if there is something wrong, they can always contact me.
12:47 in the afternoon
I think you are crazy and so bad!
12:48 in the afternoon
You can't do things like this, you make big trouble on me and you just fucking go back to [redacted] how can they contact you? Your phone number will be terminated soon and they will always make trouble on me because I am the owner and I have all my family here not like you just an international student and won't come back NL anymore
12:48 in the afternoon
don't be so mad, they have my address in [redacted] when I de register myself in gemeente and you can always let them contact me via email, [redacted] I won't let them make trouble on you. it's my responsibility and nothing on you. just take it easy.
12:48 in the afternoon

Dear handhaving,
I am the owner of [redacted] today when I came to take over my apartment from my tenants and I saw there is a note from you. I have no clue what happened because I've rented my apartment to 2 people, [redacted] from last September and [redacted] from this March . I sent messages to [redacted] and [redacted] to ask the situation and [redacted] told me he has moved out in the end of July so he has no idea what happened. [redacted] told me that she rented out my apartment on Airbnb twice because she wants to make some earnings to cover the flight cost back home. she has never told me that she would rent out my apartment to someone else until at the moment I saw the note you left . If she violates the regulation from Gemeente then what kind of procedure will be now?

[redacted] has de-registered herself and left for [redacted], but she told me that she left her home address to you during de-registration and I put her email address in cc for your convenience. Please inform me what I can do to help.
Kind regards,
[redacted]
