Ms. 5.1.2,e
As Handhaving completes its deliberations on my complaint against the 5.1.5 for the commercial use of its garden resulting in a noise and privacy nuisance to its neighbors, I wanted to add clear photographic proof of the actual use of the garden.
I know that Handhaving in its August letter to the 5.1.5 sought to describe the garden as a verkeerskamer – a space for transiting from one verblijfsruimte to another – but the photographs are clear evidence that the museum is using the space as another gallery in its museum. In other words, it is using the garden as part of the museum experience it sells to its visitors, where they can sit, marvel at the private homes of the museums neighbors, converse at high volume, check email, take selfies, etc – so a commercial use.
I hope this evidence is useful, and look forward to Handhaving's financial judgement.
Very truly yours,

5.1.2,e
P.S. A note on the photos. 5.1.2,e They were taken during the month of September. They do not document every visitor. That would mean hundreds, if not thousands of photos – and my having a new fulltime job as photographer. They were instead shot randomly, on no fixed schedule, 5.1.2,e, or disturbed by the noise, and had my phone was handy.
